The Mds for the Ellis Island ferry franchise were opened yesterday. There were only three bids, and they ranged from $62 50 a day to $75 a day. The contract will be awarded on Wednesday.

Judge Newburger, in Part IV, General Sessions, Judge Newburger, in Part IV, General Sessions, yesterday sentenced Policeman Daniel Redner, convicted of bribery, to six months in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $230. Redner was convicted of having "amanded money from Mrs. Emma Bachman, proprietress of an alleged disorderly house at No. 230 East Ninthest, under threat of sending her husband to the penitentiary. Judge Newburger yesterday in Part IV. General Sessions, sentenced Armald Veronia, a real estate dealer of No. 102 East Forty-fifth-st., to the El-mira Reformatory for the larceny of two diamond rings from Mrs. Camille Morrell, of No. 146 West Flity-fourth-st., on May 7. Veronia is the son of Dr. Veronia, a Cuban patriot.

The maneless lion, which has been a drawing card in the Central Park Menagerie for four months, was returned yesterday to its owner, William Bartels, of No. 160 Greenwich-st.

In an article which The Tribune published on Sunday regarding recent improvements in Fourth-ave., reference was made to the Ashland House as ave., reference was made to the Ashand House as a "headquarters for sporting men." H. H. Brock-way, the proprietor of the hotel, has written that he objects to the remark, that he has managed the hotel for tharty years, and that this is the first time he has been "accused of running a sporting house." No unkindness was meant by the remark in The Tribune, the writer simply stating the fact that sporting men go to the Ashland House, just as they go to the Hoffman House or the St. James Hotel, and the Ashland House has not been ranked above either of those hotels in Broadway.

The Health Department has issued a circular stating that it is ready to furnish tetanus antitoxin for the treatment of tetanus, which has been prepared in the Department's bacteriological laboratories. The circular contains a statement of the strength and immunizing power of the serum, with explicit instructions as to its use. All public institutions in this city may receive tetanus antitoxin free of charge on application to the labora-tories, in the Criminal Courts Building, Centre-st. The circular requests that every person who uses the serum will forward to the Department a full report of each case treated and the results of the treatment, as its exact value and the best method of its administration have not been fully deter-The American Sculpture Society yesterday per-

STATEN ISLAND HAPPENINGS.

George W. Meyer, twenty-two years old, a restdent of Mariner's Harbor, died yesterday from injuries received in a collision with a trolley-car in Richmond Terrace on Tuesday afternoon. Meyer H. E. Jenkins, H. L. Joeckel, S. A. Lutner, M. I. was riding his bicycle and attempted to pass between the car and a truck. He lost control of his wheel and fell against the car. His head was cut and he received internal injuries. Meyer's parents live in this State, but it is not known where.

A mother whose neglect, it is alleged, caused the death of her infant, was arrested in West Brighton yesterday afternoon by Policeman Lake, charged with attempting to steal the body of her child. The woman is Louisa Mead, the wife of Philip Mead, who lives in Third-st., New-Brighton. On Friday she left her home and, it is asserted, became intoxicated. Her three months old child, who was sickly, was left behind with nobody to care for it. When its father reached home at night he took the child to the home of his parents in John-st., West Brighton. Yesterday the mother reand after learning where the child was, went after it. When she reached the house the grandparents were laying the body on the bed. The oman grabbed the corpse and, wrapping a sheet around it, ran into the street. It was not until arrested that she gave up the body.

Thomas O'Brien, of West Brighton, was yesterday arrested, charged with running into J. Fred Collins, of St. Mark's Place, New-Brighton, who was riding a bicycle. O'Brien was held for trial by Justice Acker.

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Gregg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Gregg, of West Brighton, and H. K. Schindler, took place last evening in the church of the Ascension, the Rev. Pascal Harrower officiating. Edith Gregg was the maid of honor, and Charles H. Partridge, of Philadelphia, the best man.

The police yesterday sent twelve complaints to the District-Attorney for alleged violations of the excise law at South Beach on Sunday afternoon.

In the County Court yesterday, the indictments against Charles Crowley and Cornelius Driscoil, charged with appropriating funds of the New-Brigaton school, were dismissed. The indictment against E. H. Morrison, charged with assaulting a man, was also dismissed. The case of Edward Spicer, who, it is charged, broke the nose of Policeman Considine last winter, was brought up and sentence suspended.

MORE WITNESSES FOR MR. BELASCO.

MR. WILLARD CAUSES MERRIMENT BY III REPLIES TO EX-LUDGE DITTEN-HOEFER'S QUESTIONS.

The second week of the trial of the suit of David Relacco, the playwright, against N. K. Fairbank, of Chicago, to recover $5,000 for training Mrs. Leslie Carter for the stage, opened yesterday before Jusice Giegerich and a jury in Trial Term, Part V. o. he Supreme Court. Mr. Belasco dented absolutely the Supreme Court. Mr. Helasco demed absolutely the story published in a morning paper that Fred Lyster had written "The Heart of Maryland," and submitted a letter from Mr. Lyster to that effect.
The first witness called was E. D. Price, who managed Mrs. Leelle Carter's first tour under the "artistic direction of David Belasco." Mr. Price estified on Friday as to conversations he had with tharles L. Allen, connecting Mr. Pairbana with the Charles L. Allen, connecting Mr. Parriaha with the tour of Mrs. Carter, and went over some of the testimony yesterday. In regard to the receipt in which he and Belasco acknowledged payment in full of all money due to the time of Mrs. Carter's rour being ended in Kansas City, March, 1897. Mr. Price testified that he and Mr. Belasco objected to signing the receipt and release upon the ground that they each had individual claims against Mr.

Edward K. Willard was among the witnesses for he plaintiff vesterday.

"When you have business with ladies do you call at their homes or have them call at your office." I never ask them to come to my office. I don't want to see ladies at my office. Oh, no, said Mr. Willard, with a broad smile. Ex-Juige Dittenheefer asked Mr. Willard how it happened that in letters he wrote to Mrs. Carter he signed his initials in place of his full name. Mr. Willard used a bir paim-leaf fan and exclaimed. "Now you have got me."

"I guess I have got you," replied Judge Dittenheefer, who asked: "Is that the way you sign business letters?"

"No."

"How was it you signed that way to Mrs. Carter?"

No. "How was it you signed that way to Mrs. Carter?" I guess we were getting pretty well acquained by at time." said Banker Wilsard, using his fan vigorely and joining in the general laughter that followed.

Eugene H. Lewis, a lawyer, and Renjamin F. Roeder, secretary and treasurer of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, were also called as wilnesses for the plaintiff. The trial was adjourned until 10:30 o'clock this morning.

TWO MURDER TRIALS REGUN.

Herman Reich was put on trial before Justice Fursman in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court yesterday for the murder of his wife, Amelia, at their home, No. 453 East One-hundred-and-fiftleth-st., on July 1, 1865. Mrs. Reich had left her husband several times on account of ill-treatment, and was managing a boarding-house when she was killed. Reich became jealous of a boarder named Fitzgerald, and after a quarrel with his wife about grocery bill he shot her twice, in the presence of their young daughter, Julia, and a Mrs. Bennett, of their young daughter, Julia, and a Mrs. Bennett.

The trial for murder of John Mitchell was begun yesterday afternoon before Judge Newburger in Part IV. General Sessions. Mitchell is accused of killing Captain John Knight, of the lighter Ajax. on November 18, 1825. The defendant was mate of the vessel, which at the time was lying at the foot of One-hundred-and-eighth-at., in the East River.
Captain Knight was found in the cabin of his boat with his head battered and hacked, apparently with an axe.

FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE Enamelled Daintiness.

For the bride's boudoir nothing is more charming than odd enamelled pieces in our Marie Antoinette designs. Desks and dressing tables have the piquancy of the best French "pastoral period"-fronts curved like Capid's bow; mirror supports and corners delicately carved with flowers and rib bon knots. Chairs and settees, cane seats, slender arms, and railed or perforated backs. Enamelled in creamy tints, the carrings picked out with gold. Even such beauty is inexpensive
